

rall. in tempo
 wear of horns a mighty crown. Ha ha ha ha ha

rall. mf p
in tempo

MR. FORD

p sempre p
 Ha, I look a-head, I look a-head with keen an-tic-i-pa-tion. To - ha.

p sempre p

day he will be caught, I bet, and get his cas-ti-ga-tion. How nice a thought to

Red. *

dolce rall. in tempo
 track you down and then to beat you black and brown. Ha

Ha

in tempo rall. p

ha ha ha ha ha. I look a-head, I look a-head with great an-tic-iha ha ha ha ha. I look a-head, I look a-head with great an-tic-ipa-tion. We both shall reach our goal to-day and find our con-so-la-tion, We

pa-tion. We both shall reach our goal to-day and find our con-so-la-tion, We

p rall. in tempo affretto e cresc.

both shall reach our goal to-day and find our con-so-la-tion.

both shall reach our goal to-day and find our con-so-la-tion.

Allegro.

I am hopeful and de-light-ed. But now the

I am hopeful and de-light-ed. But now the time h

time h

day.

day.

day.

day.

(embrace ea

time has come when we must go a - way. Now I am sure we shall succeed this ver-y

time has come when we must go a - way. Now I am sure we shall succeed this ver-y cresc. f. p.

day. Yes, I am sure. Yes, I am sure we shall suc - ceed this ver - y day. Yes, I am sure. Yes, I am sure we shall suc - ceed this ver - y

day. But now the time has come when we must go a - way.

day. But now the time has come when we must go a - way.

f. p. cresc. ad.

(embrace each other)

a piacere Fare - well sir. (aside, still embracing him) (I'll beat you black and brown.) lento p.

Fare - well sir. (He's

fp col canto p.

in tempo

(to himself) We shall suc - ceed this ver - - y such a sil - ly clown.) — We shall suc - ceed this ver - - y

The g

Stringendo

day. It's time that we be on our way but sure - ly we'll suc - ceed to - day. It's time that we be on our way but sure - ly we'll suc - ceed to -

f string. sf

day. We sure - ly shall suc - ceed to -
 day. We sure - ly shall suc - ceed to -

Red.

(both exit)

Curtain

day!
 day!

*Red. * Red. * Red. **